A: The school counselor at ABC International School, Powai provides confidential academic, personal, social, and career counseling to all students from Grade 1 to Grade 12. They help students manage stress, peer conflicts, family issues, exam anxiety, and career planning. They also identify at-risk students and coordinate support with parents and teachers.

Q: How do I book a counseling appointment?

A: You can book a counseling appointment by: (1) Filling the online request form available on the school website under 'Student Support', (2) Visiting the Counseling Room 201 in Block B directly during break time, (3) Asking your class teacher or homeroom teacher to make a referral on your behalf. Appointments are usually scheduled within 2 school days.

Q: Is counseling at ABC School confidential?

A: Yes, all counseling sessions are completely confidential. Your counselor will not share what you discuss with your parents, teachers, or the principal without your permission — with very limited exceptions. If there is a serious risk of harm to you or someone else, the counselor is required by law and school policy to inform the appropriate person to keep everyone safe. The counselor will explain this to you at the start of your first session.

Q: Can a parent request counseling for their child?

A: Yes, parents can request counseling for their child by contacting the school counselor directly at counselor@ABC-powai.edu.in or calling the school's front office. A parent consent form is required for students in Grades 1 to 5. For older students, the counselor will also seek the student's own agreement before beginning sessions.

Q: Does my academic teacher get to know what I tell the counselor?

A: No. Counselors at ABC maintain strict confidentiality. Your class teachers or subject teachers are not informed about the content of your counseling sessions. Only in exceptional situations involving serious safety risks will relevant staff be informed — and even then, only on a need-to-know basis to ensure your safety.

Q: What kinds of problems can the school counselor help with?

A: The school counselor at ABC can help with a wide range of issues including: exam stress and academic pressure, friendship problems and peer conflicts, bullying (as victim or as someone working on their behaviour), anxiety, sadness or low mood, grief and loss, family difficulties, career and subject choices, self-confidence and body image, sleep problems related to stress, and adjusting to school life. If your concern is beyond the counselor's scope, they will refer you to an appropriate external specialist.

Q: How many counseling sessions can I have?

A: There is no strict limit on the number of sessions. The counselor will assess your needs during the first session and recommend a plan — this might be 3-4 sessions for a focused concern or ongoing weekly support for more complex situations. The goal is always to help you develop your own coping skills so you feel better equipped independently.

- Never give advice on medication or clinical treatment.

- Never take on a case that is causing them personal distress without seeking supervision.
- Never share any information about students they have supported with other students.

Important: If a Peer Supporter is approached about suicidal thoughts, self-harm, or abuse, they must immediately involve the school counselor. They should STAY WITH the student and send a message to the counselor or ask another student to fetch help.

3.6 Chatbot Q&A; – Peer Support

Q: What is the ABC Peer Support Programme?

A: The ABC Peer Support Programme (PPSP) is a trained group of 15–20 senior students (Grade 10–12) who volunteer to provide informal emotional support to their fellow students. They are trained in active listening, mental health awareness, and referral skills. They are NOT therapists, but they are a friendly, non-judgmental first point of contact if you're struggling and don't feel ready to talk to an adult. You can identify them by their blue Peer Supporter badge.

Q: How do I find a peer supporter at school?

A: Peer Supporters wear a distinctive blue badge. You can also find the list of current Peer Supporters on the Student Wellbeing noticeboard outside the library and in the school app under 'Student Support'. Each class also has at least one Peer Supporter assigned to their year group. You can approach any Peer Supporter during break time, free periods, or message them through the designated school wellbeing chat.

Q: What can I talk to a peer supporter about?

A: You can talk to a Peer Supporter about anything that is bothering you — exam stress, friendship problems, feeling low or anxious, trouble at home, feeling left out, relationship worries, or just needing someone to talk to. They will listen without judging you and help you figure out whether you want to access more support, like talking to the school counselor.

Q: Will a peer supporter tell anyone what I said to them?

A: Peer Supporters take confidentiality very seriously and will not share what you tell them with other students or teachers. However, like the school counselor, they are trained that if you share something that suggests you or someone else is at serious risk of being hurt, they must involve a trusted adult (the counselor) to keep everyone safe. They will always be honest with you about this.

Q: How do I become a peer supporter?

A: If you are in Grade 10, 11, or 12 and are interested in becoming a Peer Supporter, applications open each year in April. You will need to complete a short application form explaining why you want to be a peer supporter, and have a teacher nomination. Shortlisted applicants are invited for a brief conversation with the school counselor. Training takes place over 3 days in May/June before the new academic year. Contact the counselor or check the school noticeboard for this year's application details.

4.5 Chatbot Q&A; – Referral Process

Q: How does a teacher refer a student to the school counselor?

A: A teacher who is concerned about a student's wellbeing can complete the Student Wellbeing Referral Form SWR-01, available on the school's internal staff portal. The form asks for the student's details, a description of the observed concern, and the urgency level. It can be submitted digitally through the portal or placed in the sealed referral drop-box outside the counseling room. The counselor will acknowledge the referral within one school day.

Q: Can I refer myself to the school counselor without a teacher knowing?

A: Yes, absolutely. The Student Self-Referral Form (SWR-03) is available online (school website > Student Support > Request Counseling) or in paper form from the school library and counseling room. You can remain anonymous for the initial contact if you prefer. The counselor will respond discreetly — they will NOT inform your teacher that you submitted a referral unless you ask them to or there is a safety concern.

Q: My parent wants to refer me for counseling — what happens next?

A: Your parent can complete the Parent Referral Form SWR-02 available on the school website or from the front office. Once submitted, the counselor will contact your parent to understand the concern and then arrange to meet you individually. For students in Grade 6 and above, the counselor will also speak with you first to understand your own perspective and get your agreement before starting sessions. For students in Grades 1-5, a parent consent form is also required.

Q: How urgent does a referral have to be before the counselor sees me the same day?

A: If a referral is marked as 'Urgent' — or if anyone believes a student is in immediate distress or danger — the counselor aims to see that student on the same school day. You do not need to fill in a form for an urgent situation. If you or someone you know needs help right now, go directly to the counseling room (Room 201, Block B) or ask any staff member to take you there immediately.

5.3 Crisis Intervention Steps

STEP 1 — IDENTIFY & ALERT (0–5 minutes)

Any staff member who identifies a student in crisis IMMEDIATELY informs the school counselor by calling the crisis line (ext. 111) or sending a staff alert via the school app. Do NOT leave the student alone. Maintain a calm, quiet presence.

STEP 2 — SECURE THE ENVIRONMENT (5–10 minutes)

Remove other students from the immediate area calmly (no alarms, no public announcement). Ensure the student in crisis is in a safe, private space — ideally the counseling room — with a trusted adult present.

STEP 3 — INITIAL ASSESSMENT (10–20 minutes)

Counselor conducts a rapid safety assessment using the Columbia Suicide Severity Rating Scale (C-SSRS) or SLAP assessment (Specificity, Lethality, Availability, Proximity). Determines immediate risk level: Low / Moderate / High / Imminent.

STEP 4 — IMMEDIATE INTERVENTION (20–60 minutes)

For LOW risk: Counselor provides supportive listening, safety planning, schedules follow-up within 24 hrs. For MODERATE risk: Counselor implements safety plan, contacts parents immediately, no student left alone. For HIGH/IMMINENT risk: Contact parent immediately for hospital-level care. Call 112 (emergency) if required. Do NOT allow student to leave school unaccompanied.

STEP 5 — PARENT/GUARDIAN NOTIFICATION

Parents notified personally (phone call) by counselor or principal within the same session for moderate-to-high risk. For low risk, parents contacted by end of school day. Written summary provided within 24 hours.

STEP 6 — DOCUMENTATION

Counselor completes the Crisis Incident Report Form (CIRF-01) within 2 hours of the incident. Incident logged in the secure crisis register. Principal notified in writing.

STEP 7 — FOLLOW-UP & RECOVERY PLAN

Follow-up session within 24 hours. Return-to-school plan developed collaboratively with student, parents, and relevant teachers. Temporary academic accommodations arranged as needed. Ongoing monitoring by counselor for minimum 4 weeks.

5.4 Classroom Postvention (Following a Peer Crisis)

- Class teacher informed on a need-to-know basis — details NOT shared; focus on supporting the class.
- Counselor visits affected class within 24 hours to provide group containment.
- Peers NOT told details; guided to express feelings safely and refer to counselor if needed.
- Monitoring of classmates for secondary distress reactions for minimum 2 weeks.
- Parent communication sent home if incident affects class dynamics significantly (anonymised).

5.5 Chatbot Q&A; – Crisis Intervention

Q: What should I do if I think a classmate is in a mental health crisis at school?

A: If you believe a classmate is in immediate danger or distress, please act quickly: (1) Stay with them — don't leave them alone. (2) Tell a trusted adult immediately — any teacher, the front office staff, or go directly to the counseling room (Room 201, Block B). (3) If you cannot leave the student, send another classmate to get help. (4) Do NOT try to handle a serious crisis alone — getting adult help is always the right thing to do and is not betraying your friend. You may be saving their life.

Q: What is the school's emergency number for a mental health crisis?

A: For an on-campus mental health emergency, call the school's internal crisis line on extension 111 from any school phone. This connects directly to the school counselor or, if unavailable, to the duty staff member trained in first response. For a life-threatening emergency, call 112 (national emergency) immediately and simultaneously inform the school front office.

Q: If a student is in crisis, will their parents automatically be told?

A: Yes, parents are always informed when a student experiences a mental health crisis at school. The timing depends on the severity: for serious or high-risk situations, parents are contacted by phone immediately during the same session. For lower-level concerns, parents are contacted by end of the school day. The counselor will speak with you about how this conversation with your parents will happen and will involve you wherever it is safe to do so.

Q: What happens after a mental health crisis — can the student come back to school normally?

A: Returning to school after a mental health crisis is managed carefully and compassionately. The counselor works with the student, their parents, and teachers to create a personalised return-to-school plan. This may include: a phased return, temporary reduction in academic workload, regular check-ins with the counselor, and a buddy system. The school's goal is to make the return feel safe and supported, not overwhelming.

6. SELF-HARM RESPONSE PROTOCOL

6.1 Definitions

|                                        |                                                                                                                                                               |
|----------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Non-Suicidal Self-Injury (NSSI) | Deliberate, direct injury to body tissue (e.g. cutting, burning, hitting) without suicidal intent — often used as a coping mechanism for overwhelming emotion |
| Suicidal Self-Harm              | Self-injurious behaviour with intent to end one's life — a psychiatric emergency                                                                              |
| At-Risk Behaviour               | Behaviours that increase risk of harm (e.g. substance use, dangerous risk-taking) — addressed under this protocol as well                                     |

6.2 Indicators of Possible Self-Harm

- Unexplained cuts, burns, or bruising — particularly on arms, wrists, thighs (covered by clothing).
- Wearing long sleeves or clothing inconsistent with weather to conceal marks.
- Withdrawal from friends, PE, or activities involving changing clothes.
- Possession of sharp objects with no legitimate reason.
- Disclosures by the student themselves, or reports from a peer.
- Indirect statements such as 'I don't know how to cope', 'I hurt myself when I'm upset'.
- Online posts or messages indicating self-harm (reported to counselor via digital safeguarding).

6.3 Immediate Response Steps

A – Attend to Physical Safety First

If there is an active wound, the school nurse provides first aid immediately. Medical attention takes priority over counseling in the acute phase. Call emergency services (112) if injury is severe.

B – Non-Judgmental, Calm Response

The responding adult (teacher or counselor) stays calm, avoids expressions of shock, disgust, or punishment. Do NOT remove clothing or inspect injuries unnecessarily. Say: 'I'm glad you're here and I want to help you. Let's get you some support.'

C – Counselor Involvement

Counselor is involved within the same school day. Counselor assesses intent (suicidal vs. non-suicidal), frequency, method, and emotional state. C-SSRS or equivalent tool used.

D – Safety Planning

Counselor creates a personalised Safety Plan with the student: warning signs, coping strategies, support people, removal of means where possible, emergency contacts.

E – Parental Notification

Parents informed by counselor (not teacher) by end of same school day. Conversation is compassionate and solution-focused. Guidance given on how to respond at home. External referral discussed.

F – Teacher & Staff Guidance

Teachers informed on a need-to-know basis with strict confidentiality. Provided with guidance on how to be supportive in the classroom without drawing attention. Academic accommodations offered.

G – Ongoing Support & Review

Weekly counseling sessions. Review of safety plan fortnightly. External specialist referral for persistent or escalating self-harm. Communication loop maintained between counselor, parents, and GP/psychiatrist.

6.4 What NOT To Do

- Do NOT publicly confront, shame, or punish a student for self-harming.
- Do NOT make the student promise to 'never do it again' — this is ineffective and potentially harmful.
- Do NOT share details of self-harm incidents with other students.
- Do NOT dismiss self-harm as 'attention-seeking' — it is a sign of real emotional pain and requires a caring response.
- Do NOT remove the student's clothing or expose injuries in front of others.
- Do NOT send a student who has disclosed self-harm home alone.

6.5 Chatbot Q&A; – Self-Harm

Q: What should I do if I find out a friend is self-harming?

A: It's natural to feel worried and unsure of what to do. The most important thing is to get support for your friend from a trusted adult at school. You can: (1) Gently tell your friend that you care about them and want them to get help, and offer to go with them to speak to the counselor. (2) If they refuse and you are seriously worried, speak to the school counselor yourself — you don't have to share their name initially if you're not comfortable. (3) The counselor will take this very seriously and respond with care, not punishment. Telling someone is an act of care, not betrayal.

Q: Will a student get in trouble if they disclose self-harm to the school?

A: No. Self-harm is treated as a mental health and wellbeing concern at ABC — not a disciplinary matter. A student who discloses self-harm will receive compassionate support from the counselor, not punishment. Parents will be informed because the school has a duty of care, but this is done sensitively and with the student's involvement wherever possible. The focus is always on getting the student the help they need.

Q: I have been hurting myself. I'm scared to tell anyone. What should I do?

A: First, thank you for even thinking about reaching out — that takes real courage, and it shows you want things to be different. You don't have to share everything at once. You can start by using the anonymous self-referral form on the school website and just say you are struggling. Or you can visit the counseling room (Room 201) and simply say 'I need to talk to someone' — you don't have to explain everything immediately. The counselor's job is to help you, not judge you or get you in trouble. You deserve support.

Q: Does the school have a protocol specifically for students who self-harm?

A: Yes. ABC International School has a detailed Self-Harm Response Protocol that guides how all staff respond if a student is found to be self-harming. It prioritises the student's physical safety first, then provides immediate counselor involvement, a personalised safety plan, compassionate parental notification, and ongoing weekly support. Teachers are trained to respond without judgment, and academic accommodations are made to reduce pressure on the student during recovery.

Q: What is a Safety Plan and will I have to follow one?

A: A Safety Plan is a simple, personalised document that you and the school counselor create together. It helps you identify your own warning signs (when you start feeling overwhelmed), healthy coping strategies you can try before the urge to hurt yourself becomes too strong, trusted people you can contact, and what to do in an emergency. It is not a punishment — it is a practical tool to help you stay safer. You are involved in creating it, and it can be updated as you feel better.

7. STUDENT GRIEVANCE MECHANISM

7.1 Purpose & Principles

ABC International School is committed to providing a fair, transparent, and accessible mechanism for students to raise concerns, complaints, and grievances relating to academic decisions, staff conduct, peer relationships, school policies, or any matter affecting their rights and wellbeing. All grievances are treated with seriousness, confidentiality, and impartiality.

- Accessibility: Any student (Grade 3 onwards) can raise a grievance independently; younger students with parental support.
- Confidentiality: Identity of complainant protected to the greatest extent possible.
- Non-retaliation: Strictly prohibited — any retaliation against a student for raising a grievance is a disciplinary offence.
- Timeliness: All grievances acknowledged within 2 school days; resolved within 15 school days.
- Fairness: All parties given opportunity to be heard; decisions communicated in writing.

7.2 Types of Grievances Covered

|                                  |                                                                                           |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Academic                  | Unfair grading, exam irregularities, academic discrimination, subject allocation disputes |
| Interpersonal             | Bullying, harassment, discrimination, social exclusion by peers                           |
| Staff Conduct             | Perceived unfair treatment, verbal abuse, favouritism, inappropriate conduct by staff     |

| Safety                    | Concerns about physical safety on school premises, unsafe conditions                      |
| Wellbeing                 | Concerns about how a wellbeing concern has been handled by the school                     |
| POCSO / Sexual Harassment | Fast-tracked to Principal and designated POCSO officer — no standard timeline             |

7.3 Grievance Redressal Process

Level 1 – Informal Resolution (Days 1–5)

Student raises concern with class teacher or year head verbally or in writing. Teacher/year head attempts to resolve within 5 school days. If resolved, record kept. If unresolved or student uncomfortable going to teacher, move to Level 2.

Level 2 – Formal Grievance to Counselor / Welfare Officer (Days 1–10)

Student submits the Formal Grievance Form (FGF-01) to the school counselor or welfare officer. Counselor acknowledges within 2 days. Investigation conducted impartially. Both complainant and respondent given opportunity to present their account. Resolution communicated in writing within 10 school days.

Level 3 – Appeal to Principal (Days 11–15)

If unsatisfied with Level 2 outcome, student (or parent) may appeal in writing to the Principal within 5 days of receiving the Level 2 decision. Principal's decision is final at school level and communicated within 5 days.

Level 4 – External Escalation

If the grievance is not resolved satisfactorily at school level, the student/parent may escalate to: CBSE Grievance Cell (cbse.grievance.nic.in) for CBSE-related matters, or District Education Officer, or relevant consumer/legal forum for serious matters.

7.4 Chatbot Q&A; – Grievance Mechanism

Q: How do I raise a formal complaint about a teacher at ABC School?

A: If you have a serious concern about a teacher's conduct, you can raise a formal grievance by completing the Formal Grievance Form (FGF-01), available from the school counselor's office (Room 201), the front office, or the school website under 'Student Support'. Submit it to the school counselor or welfare officer. Your complaint will be treated confidentially, and you will receive an acknowledgement within 2 school days. You will not face any negative consequences for raising a legitimate concern.

Q: What is the timeline for resolving a student grievance?

A: At ABC, all formal grievances are acknowledged within 2 school days of submission. Resolution is targeted within 15 school days from the date of acknowledgement. If the matter is more complex, you will be kept informed of progress. If you are not satisfied with the outcome, you have the right to appeal to the Principal within 5 days of receiving the decision.

Q: Can I raise a grievance about being bullied?

A: Yes. Bullying — whether in person or online — is taken very seriously at ABC International School, Powai. You can raise a grievance about bullying either through the standard grievance process (FGF-01 form) or through the anonymous complaint system if you prefer not to identify yourself initially. The school has a separate Anti-Bullying Policy, and any substantiated bullying concern results in a formal disciplinary process for the bully, as well as support for the victim.

Q: Will the person I complain about find out I complained?

A: During a formal investigation, the respondent (person you are complaining about) will be made aware that a complaint has been raised — however, the school takes all measures to manage this sensitively and to protect you from retaliation. Retaliating against a student who has raised a grievance is itself a disciplinary offence. If you have safety concerns, please discuss this with the counselor when submitting your form.

Q: I am not happy with how the school handled my grievance. What can I do?

A: If you are not satisfied with the outcome at school level, you have the right to appeal. First, submit a written appeal to the Principal within 5 days of receiving the Level 2 decision — the Principal's response is the final school-level decision and will be given within 5 days. If you remain unsatisfied after the Principal's response, you can escalate to the CBSE Grievance Cell (for CBSE-related academic matters) at cbse.grievance.nic.in, or to the District Education Officer for other concerns.

8. ANONYMOUS COMPLAINT SYSTEM

8.1 Overview

ABC International School recognises that some students may feel unable to identify themselves when raising a concern, due to fear of retaliation, embarrassment, or concern for a peer. The Anonymous Complaint System (ACS) allows students, parents, and staff to report concerns without revealing their identity. All anonymous complaints are taken seriously and investigated where sufficient information is provided.

8.2 How to Submit an Anonymous Complaint

|                        |                                                                                                                            |
|------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Online Form     | School website > Student Support > Report a Concern Anonymously (hosted on secure third-party platform — no IP tracking)   |
| Drop Box        | Physical sealed 'Wellbeing Concern Box' located outside the school library and near the canteen                            |
| Anonymous Email | Use the school's anonymous submission link (generates a code so you can check for a response without revealing your email) |
| QR Code         | QR code displayed on all wellbeing noticeboards throughout the school — links to the anonymous online form                 |

8.3 What to Include in an Anonymous Complaint

- Nature of the concern (what is happening, what type of issue it is).
- Who is involved (you may describe roles rather than names if preferred, e.g. 'a student in Grade 9' or 'a teacher in the science department').
- When and where the incidents are occurring (approximate times and locations).
- How long it has been going on.
- Whether you believe anyone is in immediate danger (if so, please indicate this clearly).
- Any evidence you are able to share (screenshots, dates, descriptions).
- Your anonymous reference code (generated by the system) if you wish to receive a response.

8.4 Limitations of Anonymous Complaints

- Investigations may be limited where insufficient identifying information is provided.
- The school cannot give a formal written outcome to an anonymous complainant (unless they use the reference code system).
- Anonymous complaints that are malicious, false, or fabricated may result in disciplinary action if the complainant is subsequently identified.
- Complaints involving imminent safety risks will be escalated to immediate crisis response regardless of anonymous status.

8.5 Chatbot Q&A; – Anonymous Complaints

Q: How can I report a problem at school without anyone knowing it was me?

A: You can use ABC's Anonymous Complaint System in several ways: (1) Fill in the anonymous online form on the school website under 'Student Support > Report a Concern Anonymously' — no login or IP tracking. (2) Drop a handwritten note (unsigned) into the sealed Wellbeing Concern Box outside the library or near the canteen. (3) Use the QR code on any school wellbeing noticeboard to access the anonymous form on your phone. The school takes all anonymous reports seriously.

Q: If I report something anonymously, can the school find out who I am?

A: The online anonymous form is hosted on a secure platform that does not record IP addresses or track user identity. If you use the physical drop-box, there are no cameras monitoring it. The school's commitment is that anonymous reports are genuinely anonymous. The only exception is if the information you provide inadvertently identifies you, or if a legal authority compels disclosure — but this is extremely rare.

Q: Can I track what the school did about my anonymous complaint?

A: Yes. When you submit the anonymous online form, the system generates a unique reference code. Keep this code safe — you can use it to check for an update or response from the school without revealing who you are. The counselor or welfare officer will post a response against your reference code within 10 school days. If you used the physical drop-box, you can leave a contact method or revisit the noticeboard where general updates on complaint outcomes (anonymised) are sometimes posted.

Q: What kinds of things can I report anonymously?

A: You can anonymously report any concern that affects student wellbeing or safety, including: bullying or harassment of yourself or another student, suspected drug or substance use on school premises, concerns about a classmate's mental health or self-harm, inappropriate behaviour by any member of staff, unsafe physical conditions in school, cheating or exam irregularities, or any situation where you feel someone is at risk. If someone is in immediate danger, please add 'URGENT' at the top of your report.

9. EXTENDED CHATBOT Q&A; DATASET – GENERAL WELLBEING

The following Q&A; pairs are additional training data for the school chatbot covering common wellbeing, mental health, and student support queries not addressed in earlier chapters.

Q: I am feeling overwhelmed with exams. What can the school do to help?

A: Exam stress is very common, and ABC offers multiple layers of support. The school counselor provides individual sessions focused on exam anxiety management, time management, and study strategies. The school also runs study skills workshops before major exam seasons (contact your year head for the schedule). You can access the De-stress Lounge in the library at any time during school hours. Your teachers can also offer subject-specific guidance. If exam stress is severely affecting your sleep, eating, or daily functioning, please book a counseling appointment as soon as possible — early support is most effective.

Q: What is the school's approach to student mental health — is it taken seriously?

A: Yes, student mental health is a core priority at ABC International School, Powai. The school has a dedicated counseling department, a trained Peer Support Programme, regular wellbeing screenings, a De-stress Lounge, Mental Health Awareness Week events, and teacher training in mental health first aid. The school believes that mental health is just as important as physical health and academic achievement, and all support services are provided free of charge to enrolled students.

Q: My child is being bullied — what should I do as a parent?

A: As a parent, you can take the following steps: (1) Document what your child has told you — dates, descriptions, names if known. (2) Contact the school counselor directly at counselor@ABC-powai.edu.in or call the school front office to request an urgent appointment. (3) You may also submit a formal grievance using Form FGF-01 (downloadable from the school website). The school's Anti-Bullying Policy ensures that all substantiated cases result in a formal investigation and appropriate action. Your child will also be provided with ongoing emotional support throughout this process.

Q: Does ABC School have a policy on cyberbullying?

A: Yes. Cyberbullying — the use of digital platforms, social media, messaging apps, or online games to harass, intimidate, humiliate, or threaten a student — is covered under ABC's Anti-Bullying Policy and is treated with the same seriousness as in-person bullying, even if it occurs outside school hours. Students and parents can report cyberbullying through the school's anonymous complaint system or formal grievance process. The school will investigate, provide support to the victim, and take appropriate action against the perpetrator.

Q: What support does the school offer for students with anxiety disorders?

A: Students with diagnosed or suspected anxiety disorders are supported through a combination of: individual counseling sessions with the school counselor, coordination with the student's external therapist or psychiatrist (with parental consent), academic accommodations (e.g. extra time in exams, quieter exam settings, deadline extensions), a personalised student support plan, and regular wellbeing check-ins. Parents are encouraged to share relevant medical or psychological reports with the counselor so that support can be tailored appropriately.

Q: How does the school support students who have experienced bereavement?

A: The school counselor provides bereavement support to students who have lost a loved one. This includes: a safe space to grieve without judgment, individual counseling sessions, collaboration with parents on how to support the child at home, communication with teachers to arrange academic accommodations (reduced workload, deadline flexibility, absence management), and, if needed, referral to an external grief therapist.

The school community is also supported in responding sensitively — class teachers receive guidance on how to acknowledge a loss without embarrassing the student.

Q: What is the school's approach to LGBTQ+ student wellbeing?

A: ABC International School is committed to providing a safe, inclusive, and respectful environment for all students, including LGBTQ+ students. The school counselor is trained in LGBTQ+ affirmative practice and provides a confidential, non-judgmental space for students to explore their identity and seek support. The school's Anti-Bullying Policy explicitly includes protections against discrimination or harassment based on sexual orientation, gender identity, or expression. Students do not need to disclose their identity to access support.

Q: Can the school counselor recommend or prescribe medication for mental health?

A: No. The school counselor is a mental health professional trained in counseling and psychological support, but they are not a medical doctor or psychiatrist and cannot prescribe medication. If a student's mental health needs may require medication, the counselor will recommend an external assessment by a child psychiatrist and can help facilitate the referral with parental consent. The school works in collaboration with external mental health professionals to provide integrated care.

Q: What is the difference between seeing the school counselor and seeing a private therapist?

A: The school counselor provides accessible, school-based support that is free and conveniently available during school hours. They focus on concerns related to school life, academic wellbeing, relationships, and general mental health. They are an excellent first point of contact. A private therapist or clinical psychologist offers more intensive, specialised, and longer-term treatment in a clinical setting outside school, and may be more appropriate for complex or severe mental health conditions. The school counselor can help you decide if an external referral would be beneficial and can support the transition to external care.

Q: How does the school handle a situation where a student discloses abuse at home?

A: If a student discloses physical, emotional, or sexual abuse by a family member or any other person, the school counselor is legally required under the POCSO Act (2012) and India's child protection laws to report this to the Child Welfare Committee (CWC) or appropriate authorities. This is a mandatory legal requirement — not optional. The counselor will inform the student that this report needs to be made, explain what will happen next, and ensure the student has support throughout the process. The school prioritises the child's safety above all else.

Q: Does the school offer group therapy or group counseling?

A: Yes. The school counselor periodically facilitates structured group counseling sessions for students on specific themes such as exam stress management, building resilience, social skills, grief, friendship difficulties, and managing transitions (e.g. moving from primary to secondary). Groups are small (6–8 students), confidential, and run over 4–6 weekly sessions. Participation is voluntary. Information about upcoming groups is shared via the school app and noticeboard. Students can also request a group to be formed if they identify a shared need.

Q: What should a teacher do if they are worried about a student's mental health?

A: A teacher who is concerned about a student's mental health should: (1) Have a brief, private, empathetic check-in with the student — ask how they are, listen, and express concern without pressure. (2) Not attempt to counsel the student — listen and reassure only. (3) Complete the Student Wellbeing Referral Form SWR-01 (on the staff portal) and submit it to the counselor with the appropriate urgency level. (4) Continue to be a supportive presence in the classroom — small gestures (checking in briefly, flexible seating, a quiet word) can make a significant difference. (5) Contact the counselor directly if the concern feels urgent or the teacher is unsure what to do.

Q: What resources are available for a student who feels lonely or socially isolated?

A: Feeling lonely or isolated is more common than many students realise, and the school has several ways to help. The school counselor can offer individual support and may facilitate group counseling focused on social skills and connection. The Peer Support Programme provides trained student peers who offer a friendly, non-judgmental ear. There are also extracurricular clubs and activities across a wide range of interests — joining a club is one of the most effective ways to build new friendships. If you tell the counselor or your homeroom teacher you are feeling isolated, they can also help connect you with students who share your interests.

Q: Is there a support group for students dealing with parental divorce or family breakdown?

A: The school counselor can offer individual support to students experiencing family breakdown, divorce, or other significant family changes. Depending on the number of students who may benefit, the counselor may also organise a small group counseling session on navigating family transitions. Individual sessions focus on helping the student process their feelings, develop coping strategies, maintain academic performance, and understand that the family situation is not their fault. Parents going through separation are also encouraged to contact the counselor to discuss how to support their child through this transition.

Q: What mental health first aid can teachers provide while waiting for the counselor?

A: Teachers trained in the school's Mental Health First Aid programme can: stay calm and provide a reassuring presence; find a private, quiet space for the distressed student; listen actively and empathetically without minimising or rushing; avoid asking intrusive or leading questions; let the student know help is coming; not leave a student in acute distress alone; and contact the school nurse if there are physical concerns. Teachers do NOT attempt to conduct a clinical assessment or counseling — their role is safe containment and swift referral to the counselor.
